GEMINIME CHAT AND CHATTER

GOSSIP AND ADVICE FOR THE WORLD OF WOMEN.

The Tea Tray on Wheels is One of the Latest Devices to Save the Housewives From Taking Extra Steps—The Tray Can Be Arranged in the Kitchen and Then Rolled Into the Parlor.

The tea tray on wheels may not be familiar to every one. It is generally a two-shelf arrangement of wicker or mahogany that can be trundled around on three little wheels, and may be brought to her from the kitchen all stocked for the tea hour.

The shops are also offering glass-covered mahogany trays to match small tea tables. The table is left in the desired place, and the tray with the beverage is brought in and placed upon it. There are also convenient wire frames fitted with bread and butter and tea plates, the servant being thus enabled to bring them all in together without any fear of a catastrophe, as the plates are held with clips.

The whole afternoon tea set can be brought in in the same way, and where space is a consideration, as it is undoubtedly in these days of flats, nothing could be more convenient than this arrangement.

For at homes and bride parties there are stands for handling round sandwiches, ices and liquors with the greatest possible ease. While on the subject of liquors it would be well to mention that there is a most ingenious lockup stand for these fitted with glasses; when it is unlocked the handle at the top turns around, releasing the stoppers from the silver caps.

Among the novelties for the dining table is a china asparagus stand, complete with fork and sauceboat, which is made so that it can be held in one hand by the servant, and is, therefore, much more convenient for handling between guests.

The new double gravy stand is as pretty as it is useful; it consists of a hot water container, with a handle and lid, into which two sauceboats fit so that gravy and bread sauce, for example, may be handled with ease at the same time and kept properly hot. If not required for this purpose, the handle can be removed, the sauceboats taken out and the container then forms either a soup tureen or a salad bowl, etc. This is made in the leaf and reed pattern in which a whole service can be obtained.

Juniper Dress to Stay.

The juniper dress is said to have come to stay, and it seems to have become as definitely established as our national institutions. Instead of appearing in all manner of costumes, however, as it did a season or two ago, it now is restricted more to the outing or school costumes. It is seen, to be sure, in the tailor-made dresses for your girls, but has little influence on the more formal dresses of the day. That other old friend, the kimono style, now is traceable principally in the sleeves of capes, juniper dresses occasionally, and rarely of coats.

But to mention what is, rather than what is not, commanding attention. The one-piece costume is worn to the exclusion of almost all other models by young girls. In nine cases out of ten it is made with empire back, a long waisted effect in front, girdled in according to the conventional manner of the ordinary bodice, and it has long sleeves. With this as a working basis, modifications without end are introduced.

Of the school dresses there is a costume of stripe of the same shade. It is trimmed in gray satin buttons and made with a gore skirt. As with the other dresses of the day, the back is made in empire style. It is worn with a fancy gimp. The sleeves are of elbow length.

New Trimmings.

One of the new trimmings is the use of black cloth cut out in wide, bold designs, applied to colored cloth. This is quite effective for street suits and also for soft finished indoor gowns.

Broadcloth is used for the embroidery. A pattern is first cut out with sharp, small, well-pointed scissors. There is no hem. The cloth is applied with a raw edge, but as this is done now with bands and folds and revers, it does not look inconsistent with neatness.

The sewing of this embroidery to the foundation cloth is a work of art, and no matter how well it is done, a hot iron is needed for the finishing touch.

Certain dressmakers paste on this embroidery. They find the effect smoother and the work less trouble.

This kind of trimming has been particularly well carried out on a gown of white meteor crepe in which the cut-out embroidery is of pale violet cloth. This is used to simulate a tunic on skirt and for bands across and round bodice.

It is a daring method and must be well done if done at all.

Soups.

Mock Bisque Soup—One cup stewed tomatoes, pint milk, three-quarters tablespoon butter, three-quarters, tablespoon corn starch, one-half teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-half saltspoon soda; heat the milk in a double boiler, add the pepper and salt to the corn starch, heat the butter in a saucepan and add the corn starch, stir well, then add a little of the hot milk, stir till smooth, repeat until thin enough to pour easily, then stir it into the remainder of the milk in the boiler, heat the tomatoes and strain out the seeds; add the soda, stir well; then add to the cream. Serve with croutons.

Old-fashioned Vegetable Soup—Three pounds of well-mixed meat, fat and lean; four quarts water, three good-sized rock turnips, five good-sized carrots, three large onions, 12 large potatoes, one teaspoon black pepper, one teaspoon poultry seasoning, one and a half tablespoons salt; boil meat two hours before putting in turnips, carrots, onions, all of which must be sliced; then an hour after putting in these vegetables put in the potatoes whole; add water as it boils away to keep it about four quarts; when potatoes are soft make dumplings as follows: One quart flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one tablespoon lard, one teaspoon salt; work lard into flour, salt and baking powder; then mix in water to make dough like biscuit, roll and cut like biscuit; now take out enough broth so the vegetables will stand up above the broth that is left; place dumplings on the vegetables; let boil 20 minutes without lifting cover; don't let the dumplings get under the water, as that makes them soggy; after taking the dumplings out, mix four tablespoons of meal and a little water; make it so you can pour it out of the bowl; pour it in the boiling soup and pour back the broth you have taken out; boil for three minutes and remove from stove; this seems like a great deal of work, but it repays one to try it.

Fine Tomato Soup—Scald and peel two quarts of tomatoes; slice in cooking kettle and bring to a boil; then add one teaspoon soda to dissolve the tomatoes and prevent the soup from curdling; strain the vegetable bisque after it has boiled seven minutes, to reject the seeds; now add a quart of scalding milk, salt, pepper, generous lump of butter and boil up a moment or two; serve with toast, crackers or add boiled rice to it; either way it is splendid for lovers of tomatoes.

Spiced Grapes.

To eight pounds of grapes allow five pounds granulated sugar, one cupful of cider vinegar, one tablespoon of powdered cinnamon and half that quantity of powdered cloves. Squeeze out the pulp, as for the preserves, and cook and strain in similar manner.

then add the skins, sugar, spices and vinegar, and cook until the skins are soft. Put in jars as you would preserves.

Yes; your rent money might purchase more comfort, or better location, or more room. You will never know to a certainty until you have answered a few ads.

Not to "hatch" the ads usually amounts to willingly overlooking opportunities that, if found and grasped, might change your whole career for the better.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT THE FAIRMONT WEST VIRGINIAN

The Fairmont West Virginian is recognized as one of the leading daily papers in the State and is fast gaining in circulation and patronage, having more than doubled its circulation in the last two years.

It is the ONLY FAIRMONT PAPER GIVING ITS READERS A TELEGRAPH WIRE SERVICE furnished by a regular Press Association. It gets its telegraph news direct over the wire from the United Press Association, the best service for evening papers.

It gives its readers more county news from its correspondents than any other Fairmont paper, having a correspondent in almost every section of the county.

It is the only Fairmont daily paper that gives its advertisers a "Square Deal" by having a fixed advertising rate, (although higher) and sticking to it, neither discriminating against nor giving SPECIAL prices to any.

It is the only Fairmont paper that has ever made its circulation known by affidavit.

It is the only Fairmont paper giving its readers every day at eight page paper.

It gives on an average of from 10 to 15 columns more news every day than any other Fairmont paper.

These are some of the reasons why it is gaining in circulation and patronage from year to year. If you are not a subscriber you are missing the BEST PAPER PUBLISHED IN MARION COUNTY

A SPECIAL FEATURE.

We have arranged to publish exclusively the Roosevelt hunting stories, written by himself, the first of which will appear this week. It is a well known fact that our President will get $1.00 a word for his stories of his African hunting trip from a well known publisher and the stories for which we have contracted are just as good, just as interesting and just as well written as the African stories will be
